

THURSDAY EVENING, SEPT. 26, 1907.

AMONG the many conveniences of the twentieth century is what is known as a "telephone newspaper," by means of which persons can keep posted in current events without the trouble of reading the daily prints. At Buda-Pesth, Hungary, a regularly organized company delivers the news by wire instead of by paper. A receiver will be put in a residence or place of business without charge, and the news delivered for but two cents a day. In Buda-Pesth more than 15,000 houses enjoy the "telephone newspaper," as it is called. From eight in the morning to ten at night loud-voiced stenographers shout the editor's "copy" between a pair of immense microphones, whence it is carried by wires to all parts of the city, to be heard through telephone receivers. All kinds of news is thus sent out, just such as occurs in the daily papers—telegrams, political speeches, weather forecasts, etc. Furthermore, at stated hours concerts are heard by the subscribers, and they can sit at dinner or at cards and enjoy the best music in the city, as arrangements are made whereby the recitals at the opera house are received by microphones and transmitted. Preachers, lecturers and speakers generally speak to the public also. The exact time of each news item is strictly regulated, so that a person always knows at what hour a certain class of news will be delivered, and he can listen or not, as he chooses. Special concerts for children are given once a week; and the service is extended to the hospitals and asylums, where the sick and blind can hear. Truly we live in a marvelous age.

SINCE THE day of Dr. Jenner a respectable minority in all civilized countries have questioned the efficacy of vaccination, while many more have believed that the operation is accompanied by more or less danger. Occasionally some person loses his or her life from having virus mingled with the blood. A case in point recently occurred in Brooklyn, N. Y. Walter E. Brown, seven years old, died Tuesday. The physician who attended him said that death was due to vaccination by a board of health physician. The boy's father two weeks ago decided that it was time for his son to enter the public schools. When he made application, however, he was told that the boy could not enter unless he was vaccinated. The father objected, but when he was informed that there was no other way he consented and took the boy to the board of health. Two days afterward the boy's arm began to swell and he suffered from convulsions. A physician was called in. He said the boy had blood poisoning, and that the poisoning had been caused by impure vaccine virus.

THE statistics compiled by the Interstate Commerce Commission for the year ending June 30, 1906, show that the number of persons on the payrolls of the railroads of the United States was 1,521,355. The total amount in wages and salaries paid to employees during the year was $900,801,653. The number of railway corporations was 2,313, and the total single-track mileage 224,363, of which 3,971 was operated by receivers. These three railroads under government control, as some radicals now favor, the party in power having authority over this army of employees would never be defeated.

AN official report on the relation in France of alcoholic excess to mental alienation shows that in the public asylums for the insane there are 9,932 cases affected by alcoholism out of a total of 71,547. Of the 9,932 cases of alcoholic alienation, 4,882, or approximately half, owe their degradation to absinthe. France is taking steps to prevent or greatly lessen the use of absinthe and the sooner this is done the better. Absinthe in France and cocaine in America are playing sad havoc with the people thereof.

FIRMS for supplying and transporting coal for the Atlantic battleship fleet during its trip to the Pacific, opened at Washington a few days ago, showed the figures for foreign vessels to be far lower than those for American vessels. When Congress meets this will be used as another reason for paying ship owners big subsidies out of the public treasury.

FOR nearly every railroad collision some person is responsible, and it is time that in every case the responsible party be located and the guilty person punished. Yet it is the rarest thing in the world for anyone to be punished for a railroad accident, though punishment would increase the safety of travel.

A conspiracy to start a revolutionary movement in Cuba has been discovered. Under instructions issued by Gov. Magoon a number of suspicious persons believed to be connected with the conspiracy have been shadowed for several days. It is believed that the movement is backed by New York capitalists.

From Washington.

(Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.)

Washington, Sept. 26.

The striking telegraphers will appeal to Congress for an investigation of the two telegraph companies. This announcement was made today by Vice President W. W. Beattie, who says: "The testimony of experts will show that the general public has been misled out of millions of dollars by this combination of telegraph interests. All of the inequities of the commercial telegraph companies will be shown before a tribunal, which has no immunity but attachment. The resolution asking for the investigation will be introduced in both the Senate and House on the opening day of Congress." Beattie says that no responses have been received to the appeal the Central Labor body of this city made to President Roosevelt that he institute an investigation through the Attorney General's office with special reference to the charge that the two companies are working in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Brigadier General Barry, commanding the army of Pacification in Cuba, in a telegram sent today to the Adjutant General relative to the Cuban uprising says: "Have been alive to situation for some days, though nothing has developed worthy of reporting. All intelligence officers and station been alert and have reported everything concerning it. Daily reports from them show tranquility in all provinces except Pinar del Rio, where there is some slight agitation among lawless class, mainly negroes. Am satisfied any situation which may arise, will be promptly and successfully handled."

From now until Sunday when he will start on his western tour, the President will spend three of the busiest days of his life. Here are a few of the important questions he found waiting attention when he reported for duty at the executive offices early today:

Will the reapportion of Wu Ting Fang as Chinese minister at Washington be acceptable to this government? Strong pressure is being brought to bear in high quarters to have Wu turned down. The two principal charges are that he lacks dignity and that he was instrumental in bringing about the boycott against American products in China. Secretary Root left the city yesterday without taking action, and is understood to have passed the matter up to the President.

Will the administration approve the project of the Navy Department to have col. "Bob" Evans's Atlantic-Pacific fleet transported in foreign bottoms? American shippers have made a strenuous protest.

Shall the contracts for submarine torpedo boats be divided between the competing companies? Both Holland and Lake representatives are on hand to urge the merits of their respective craft. Who will get the job of internal revenue collector at Cincinnati, vice Cellarius, resigned? Taff-Foraker-Cox politics enters into this question.

What will be the next move of the administration against the trusts? Attorney Bonaparte is scheduled for a conference with the President on this point.

Who will win the international tennis match on the White House courts Saturday? The Rt. Rev. Arthur Foley Winnington Ingram, Bishop of London, has accepted President Roosevelt's challenge for a few sets.

The President appeared at his office at 9:40. Visitors who called to shake the presidential hand and congratulate him upon his safe return said he was in splendid spirits and that he spoke enthusiastically of the benefit he had derived from his summer rest. The first to be ushered into the office were Assistant Secretaries Bacon and Oliver of the State and War Departments, respectively. Captain Lee, one of the President's military aides, and ex-Senator Jones, of Arkansas, were admitted soon afterwards. Senator Curtis, of Kansas, called to invite the President to attend the coming meeting of the Trans-Mississippi Congress which is to be held at Muskogee, in November, and which has for its chief purpose the booming of Galveston, as the great export city of the south. The President did not promise to attend.

Judge Waddill, of the United States District Court at Richmond, Va., has handed down an order requiring the Virginia officials of the fertilizer trust to appear before the United States court at Nashville, Tenn., in the suit pending there for the dissolution of the corporation. Assistant Attorney General Sanford was prepared for a long contest, but the defendants attorneys finally withdrew opposition.

The President and Secretary of the Navy today untied an unpleasant snarl by deciding to name the new monster battleship North Dakota, instead of New York.

Until President Roosevelt says the word, North Dakota will not come out to any presidential candidate for 1908. Senator McCumber made this announcement today, and made it just as emphatic as he knew how. "North Dakota is for Roosevelt, first, last, and all the time," said the Senator, "and until we know just what he is going to do, we won't take any action looking to the endorsement of any presidential candidate. If he refuses finally to run, North Dakota will be for the man who best represents the President's policies."

By prompt action on the part of the provisional and military officials in Cuba, it is believed that the War Department that an attempt to cause an uprising on the island has failed.

The Navy Department this afternoon received a telegram from Admiral Dayton, announcing the arrival of the armored squadron from the Philippines, at San Francisco. It consists of West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Colorado.

The President today assured Senator Calvert, of France, that he was in favor of uniform international pure food regulations. Senator Calvert was introduced at the White House by Dr. Harvey Wiley, of the Agriculture Department.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Miss Nellie Hern, a native of Round Hill, London county, swallowed the contents of a bottle of colic acid Tuesday afternoon in front of her home, 213 F street northwest, Washington. The young woman's life was saved by the prompt action of friends and later by physicians at Emergency hospital, where she was taken. Miss Hern recently moved to Washington with her parents and obtained employment at a cafe in Twelfth street, between F and G streets, northwest. Soon after going there she met George C. Crahan and, it is said, they were to have been married shortly.

News of the Day.

Rumors that Secretary of the Navy Metcalf will retire from the Cabinet have been revived.

Heavy frost is reported in Iowa, South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, while Cleveland reports a snowstorm.

President Roosevelt and his family returned from Oyster Bay to the White House late yesterday afternoon.

Missouri railroads, after a three months' test of the two-cent fare law, report a loss of $1,500,000, and will appeal to the courts.

The order that all field officers below the rank of brigadier-general must go through the horse-back-riding test has caused a vigorous protest in Washington.

Countess Montignoso, who was divorced from the present King of Saxony while he was Crown Prince, has married Signor Teselli, a music master, in London.

The text of the Anglo-Russian convention was made public in London yesterday and it contains a special reservation by Great Britain of her rights in the Persian Gulf.

Masao Parra and General Ducay were arrested early today in Havana, on orders from Governor Magoon on a charge of treason. Several other arrests of known revolutionaries have been made, but the identity of those held is guarded.

Byron W. Williamson is in the county jail at Findlay, Ohio, charged with having offered a bribe to a juror in the Stanford Oil trial last June. Statements are being made by Williamson in an attempt to involve Ex-Senator Thomas H. McComis.

Mrs. Harry Thaw, who has been confined at home since last Saturday, is reported somewhat worse today. Her automobile, however, makes usual daily trips to the Tombs bearing messages to Harry Thaw, together with luncheon and supper for the prisoner.

Today's reports place the number of drowned by yesterday's cloudburst and floods in Malaga, Spain, and neighboring towns at 150. Thousands are homeless and destitute and a famine is threatened. The damage is placed at enormous figures. King Alfonso is on his way to the scene.

Several members of the party of thirty striking telegraphers, who are camping in the vicinity of Cabin John Bridge, in order that living expenses may be reduced during the existing trouble, narrowly escaped drowning last night, when a boat in which they were seated suddenly capsized, throwing them into the deepest portion of the canal. They were saved through the heroism of one of their number, W. T. Martin.

The National Camp, Patriotic Order Sons of America, in Richmond yesterday approved the plan of the State camp looking to the purchase and preservation of the old home of the Lees—Stratford—in Westmoreland county and appropriated $100 for that purpose. Powell when the car stopped for signals at the Mason's Creek drawbridge, yesterday, the owner of the farm blazed away with a shotgun, the lead entering the car and injuring eight persons. There were many narrow escapes from serious injury. There was great excitement on the car, most of the passengers being young women. The boy who entered the melon patch escaped injury. Investigating Standard Oil. New York, Sept. 26.—A search is being made today by Frank B. Kellogg, counsel for the government in the suit to dissolve the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, for "imaginary" points on the pipe lines of the Standard to which independent oil companies may pipe their oil under what is called the trust's clever method of evading the law of 1906, making pipe lines common carriers and forcing them to publish their rates.

It is probable that an adjournment will be taken tomorrow until the middle of next week to allow John G. Milburn, chief counsel for the Standard, to go to Canton, O., to attend the unveiling of the McKinley monument. McKinley died in his house at Buffalo and he is one of the monument commissioners.

Attempted Murder. Schenectady, N. Y., Sept. 26.—Crazed by drink and jealousy, Wm. C. Carpenter, a young married man, who for the last three months has been living at "The Lafayette," a lodging house, tried to murder John Ishman, a fellow-lodger. Carpenter fired three shots at Ishman in the latter's room. Only one of the shots took effect, it entering Ishman's body near eighth ribs. Carpenter was under arrest on the charge of being a disorderly person at the time of the shooting and was just in the act of leaving the room. Carpenter's victim will recover.

Excitement at a Fire. New York, Sept. 26.—Fire Chief Edward Croker was overcome by gas in the basement of the burning factory of the Ohio-Cuban Cigar Company. Hundreds of persons were driven by the police from the tenements adjoining the factory and there were wild scenes as the women and children were routed out by the police, who feared the flames would spread. Household goods and furniture were piled in the streets until traffic was blocked. The firemen, however, confined the fire to the factory, with a loss of about $20,000.

Negro Murderer on Island. Summit, Ill., Sept. 26.—Fifty Chicago detectives have surrounded an island in the Desplaines river, near here. Richard Walton, a negro, wanted for the murder of Lillian White Grant, is believed to be encamped on the island with a party of well-armed negroes at his back. Walton's party is said to have sufficient food to last for two or three days. Farmers from all the surrounding country have joined in the man hunt, and led by the police, they are going through the swamps. The orders of the police are to shoot Walton on sight.

Strike of Shoeworkers. Brooklyn, Mass., Sept. 26.—The first regularly ordered shoeworkers strike since 1898 was ordered at W. L. Douglas Company factories this afternoon, 2000 later, after the command of Agent Hickey of the new independent lathers' union.

THE FERTILIZER CASE. In the federal court at Norfolk yesterday, before Judge Waddill, F. J. Royster and Charles F. Burroughs, fertilizer manufacturers, of Norfolk, cited as defendants in the so-called fertilizer trust case, to be heard in Nashville, Tenn., waived further hearing as to whether or not they should be removed to the jurisdiction of the Tennessee court, and each gave bond in the sum of $5,000 for their appearance. Immediately upon Attorney General Sanford, of Nashville, submitting certified copies of the federal grand jury indictments in the Tennessee court, counsel for the defendants announced that their clients would submit no evidence and were ready to enter into bond to appear for trial in Tennessee.

Today's Telegraphic News. Lipton Disappointed. London, Sept. 26.—Sir Thomas Lipton was clearly disappointed over the refusal of the New York Yacht Club to race for the America's cup with a 68-toner. When seen at his country house today he declared he could not say what his future course would be until he received the complete text of the refusal of the Americans to meet him.

"I am disappointed over the refusal of my challenge. The New York Yacht Club has always been my very good friend and I have always been shown the greatest kindness and consideration by its members. Hitherto I have been refused nothing, and it is evident that the new rules have caused the decision. Had I challenged under the usual international rule I believe I could understand the matter better, but I challenged under the newly adopted rule of the club itself which has officially characterized the 90-footers as freak racing machines; and so I hoped that real boats manned by crack crews and skippers. If the New York Yacht Club wants me to race with a ninety-footer, I will of course do so. However, I will never again race under the old rule. If they will race under their own rules, I will build a boat in class H, which would give us up to 94 feet on the water line, and I have already asked Designer Fife to prepare plans and come here for a consultation. I will never again take a freak across the ocean, as it means risking the lives of all who sail on board. Then, again, all of our leading designers here have absolutely refused to design me a boat under the old agreement."

Charges Against a Minister. Lincoln, Neb., Sept. 26.—Charging that his refusal to accept her ardent devotion resulted in Mrs. Arthur E. Cross making charges of immoral conduct against him which resulted in his being deposed from the pastorate of the Methodist Church, Rev. W. F. Ferguson insisted today trying to clear his reputation. A committee of 13 ministers from the Nebraska conference is hearing the evidence in the case. Ferguson insisted that Mrs. Cross, with whom he boarded, fell in love with him, and fearing that he would wed a wealthy widow to whom he was paying attention, made the charge to the church board that he had been indiscreet with her in order to prevent his marriage. Mrs. Cross is the chief witness against Ferguson at today's hearing which is being conducted behind closed doors.

Body Recovered. New Rochelle, N. Y., Sept. 26.—The body of Miss Beatrice Penton, 16 years old daughter of Thomas B. Penton, was recovered from the sound today and identified by her father. She was drowned in Sunday's storms. She went sailing with Guide de Angellis, a young Italian who had been paying attention to her and who had been forbidden by Penton to call on the girl. DeAngellis' body has not yet been recovered.

The McKinley Memorial. Canton, O., Sept. 26.—Preparations are being made to entertain 100,000 visitors at Canton, Monday, September 30, when President Roosevelt will dedicate the McKinley memorial. Inspector Sutton, chief of the southern district of the secret service, has completed arrangements to guard President Roosevelt during the ceremonies. The President has given his approval of the dedication programme.

New York Stock Market. New York, Sept. 26.—A heavy tone developed in the stock market after the first hour and prices during the greater part of the hour joined in the downward movement. There was no special incentive to the selling but brokers watching the trading thought the business was less profitable than it has been for some time and that selling orders were coming in the market from outside, indicating a little renewed liquidation.

Attacked by Women Robbers. New York, Sept. 26.—Two well dressed highway women fell upon Frank Tomlinson in Fifth avenue, just above 42nd street, today, choked and dragged him into an alleyway and were rifling his pockets when he was rescued by two detectives. The women robbers then fought the detectives until they were overpowered. It is known that several men have been robbed in the neighborhood recently but they declined to report to the police, fearing publicity. The women are large and athletic and gave their names as Mary Millard and Stella Kramer.
